

FORMER MARINE JOINS
EXPLORER'S EXPEDITION

On his way to unexplored regions of the far North, there is one top sergeant of the Marine Corps Reserve who is not going to be carried to AWOL at Washington for the next year or two if the Arctic R. F. D. mail carriers get snowbound.

Frederick William Maurer, of New Philadelphia, Ohio, is now at the Golden Gate Hotel in Nome, and ready to shove off as a member of the Stefansson Arctic Expedition. From that outpost of the snows he notified Major Lejeune in a letter mailed September 7, not to expect the monthly reports required of the sea soldier reservists until he returned to civilization and the high cost of living.

Maurer was a member of the former Stefansson expedition, and the lure of the Arctic proved stronger than the stronger than the rewards of salesmanship in Ohio soon after he was placed on the inactive list. His old bunkies rest content with the idea that Maurer will tell it for the Marines in a land where disarmament is an accomplished fact, and they point to him as the latest proof of the Marine Corps.

Corps boast that "Marines go everywhere and see everything." Maurer's enlistment, by the way, will expire on where in the vicinity of the North Pole.

High School News

Thursday morning a short discussion was given in Parliamentary Practice. The question under discussion was, "Should Ireland be given absolute independence?" The debaters on both sides had very strong points and proved them well. The meeting was admirably conducted and Miss Viola Foote proved to be an excellent chairman. This discussion was given expressly to show the students how a class meeting or any other meeting should be conducted. Mr. Zeff Prins did not seem to be pleased with the outcome of the discussion and challenged Miss Ethel Burns to a debate, next Friday, on the same question.

Velda, "Mildred, what is 'yo no see' in English?"

Mildred, "I don't know."

Velda, "Perle I hear you are good in Spanish, if so, can you tell me what 'yo no so in English'?"

Velda, "I don't know."

Velda, cannot translate "ye no se" in English.

She didn't understand that "ye no se" is "I don't know" in English.

The Spanish Club held its meeting last Friday at the home of the president, Miss Mildred Sowell.

The business session was conducted in the same manner as all other meetings. The roll was called by the Secretary, Miss Perle Wooley, and as each name was read, the owner responded with a Spanish Proverb.

The minutes of the former meeting were read and approved, and the chairman of the various committees reported. It was decided to name the club "Guitanas Alegres" meaning "Merry hearted Gypsies," and the Spanish colors, red and yellow, adopted. A committee was appointed to select mottoes for the club.

After the business session a literary and social program was held. The ancient story of the "Chicken who thought the sky had fallen on her head" was told by Mr. Harold Love, who greatly amused the audience by the way in which he narrated it. A short play was next on the program.

Many games were indulged in, greatly to the amusement of all. Every member present, including Miss Haskin, owes a fine to the club for speaking English, as one cent was charged each word. At a late hour dainty refreshments, of sandwiches, cocoa, and brownies, were served by the hostess. The sandwiches were delicious, but we couldn't express in Spanish what we thought of them so we had to leave our appreciation unspoken. The meeting came to a close and all expressed having a most enjoyable time and Mildred an excellent chairman.

Mr. P. B. the agriculture teacher, has already taken the agriculture classes to Judge Mr. Kennedy's chickens and Martin Jacobson's pigs.

The agriculture classes are going to have a lesson in rope splicing. If you want your ropes spliced, bring them to the Safford High School, as we have some expert splicers.

The Literary Society held a business session and a literary program, Friday, at 4:10 in High School Auditorium. After the business session in which the constitution was read and approved, and the reports of the various committees heard, the following Spanish program was given.

Piano Solo, "A Una Rosa Silvestre," Elsie Schnick.

Spanish Play, "El Regalo de Cumpleaños," Georgia Haskin, Wilmoth Packer, Richard Chambers.

"Los Tres Osos" Dorothy Chamberlain.

Song, "La Golondrina" Helen Sanders, Mildred Sowell, Geneva Cooks.

Spanish Play, "La Llegada al Hotel" Hazel Steurmer, Katherine Reinhardt, Warner Davidson.

Dance, "La Paloma" Anita Johnson.

The program, especially the dancing was greatly enjoyed by all.

Mr. Hibner announced Monday morning that all students, residing outside the city limits, are entitled to enter the Safford High School, without paying a tuition.

Augustus, "I have discovered a new pneumatic suit for men working at a high altitude."

Clara, "And has it been a success?"

Augustus, "Why yes, the first man that fell from a building with one of these suits on, bounced so high, we had to throw him sandwiches to keep him alive."

The candy sale, given for the benefit of the basket ball teams, was a great success.

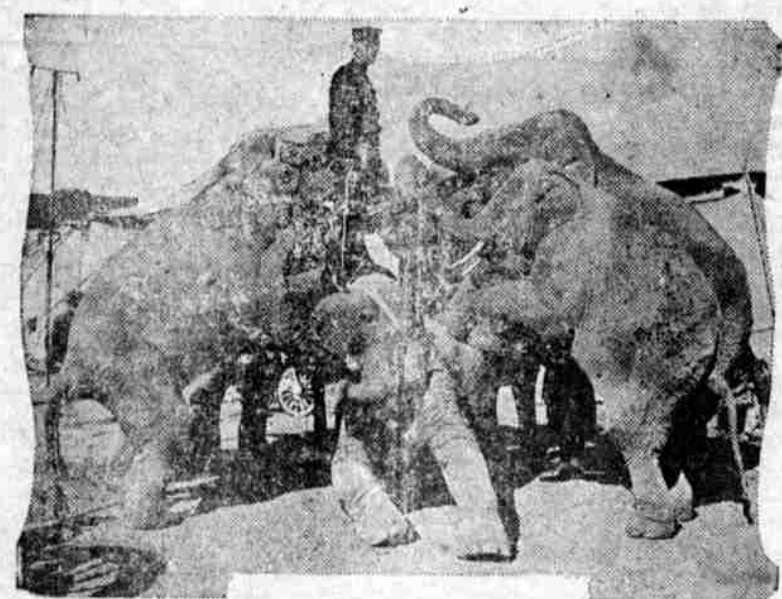

Stop! Look! Listen!

A basket ball game between the Juniors and Freshies, and the Seniors and Sophomores, Thursday. Admission ten cents. Everybody invited.

Dignified Senior, "O, dear! I have so much on my hands, I don't know what to do."

Brilliant Freshie, "Why not try a little soap and water?"

50 TONS OF ELEPHANTS COMING
NOV. 4 WITH AL. G. BARNES CIRCUS

Included in the Al. G. Barnes collection of pachyderms is "Tusko" the largest elephant that walks the earth. "Tusko" stands 12 feet 5 inches which is 11 inches taller than was "Jumbo", the most famous of all elephants.

CIRCUS DAY WILL BE ONE OF REAL PLEASURE

Already hundreds from this vicinity are planning to attend performances at Safford. All roads in this section will lead to Safford on Friday, November 4th, where the Al. G. Barnes big 4-ring wild animal show is billed to give one performance afternoon and a brilliant parade.

Just as the ponderous, peacocked, palm-eared pachyderms towers above the miserable, morbid, and melancholy mouse does the Al. G. Barnes Circus overtop all other tented aggregations.

In the steel-barred cages of the Barnes show are to be found the greatest collection of wild animals ever before gathered in group. Even opposition circus men reluctantly admit it. Animals, like figures, can't lie, and all may be counted. It is the boast of Al. G. Barnes that under the canvas of his big 4-ring show may be seen the finest and best examples of jungle, plain, and desert life. Each in his way is a perfect specimen. And, what is more, each is trained. In all, 110 animal acts are presented.

Years have been spent in making the collection unique, novel, and extraordinary. Patrons of previous years have been lavish in their praise not only of the animals as exhibited, but in the remarkable prowess of the Barnes trainers, for each has, in his way, achieved the hitherto impossible.

But the merit of the past is naught compared with the supremacy of the present. Scarcity and prohibitive prices have prevented circus owners generally from increasing their collections. But not the Al. G. Barnes Big 4-ring Wild Animal Circus. Throughout the winter, while the big show was in its Southern California winter quarters, agents of Owner Barnes have scoured Europe and Asia for newer and finer specimens of forest and jungle beast. Even now the great menagerie is not complete although by far and away the best in the country, and new animals are arriving almost daily.

In the program will be shown the greatest spectacle of modern times, the splendid, spirited, and scintillating "Alice in Jungleland", a frolicsome fantasy of fairyland, designed and produced under the personal supervision of Al. G. Barnes.

CAMERON INDICTED FOR PERJURY; SAYS ACCUSATION FALSE

FARM BUREAU
FAST COMING TO THE FRONT

That the Farm Bureau is to be a permanent organization in the State of Arizona, as in other states, is made evident from the following letter just received by Mr. Seth P. Fletcher, president of the Graham County Farm Bureau.

Dear Sir:

It has been deemed advisable to create a Ways and Means Committee for the State Farm Bureau Federation to secure substantial financial ways and means which will enable our Bureau to go forward in organizing the various commodity organizations in the respective counties.

In making a mental survey for men capable of filling this position, we find men in your county well fitted to do this work, but when it comes to the question of those men taking the necessary time to go and the frequency of assembling this committee from great distances, it causes us to revert to the economic idea of creating this committee from one county, whose location is convenient to the headquarters of the Farm Bureau.

I am submitting for your endorsement or rejection the names of the men whom we deem capable and also willing to act on this most important committee, as follows:

E. W. Hudson, of Tempe, one of the heaviest agricultural operators in the state.

Dwight B. Heard, who is a business success and who has a deep interest in the development of our state, a member of The Farm Bureau and a most enthusiastic and influential worker for the Farm Bureau.

Dr. J. C. Norton, who was for five years a State Farm Bureau President, also a successful dairy man and business manager.

Kindly let me know by return mail what your attitude is with reference to these men acting on this committee, address 416 Heard Building, Phoenix.

With such men as Mr. Heard, Mr. Hudson or Dr. Norton on the Ways and Means committee, we are assured that the Farm Bureau is to be placed in a sound financial foundation.

Yours very truly,

Seth P. Fletcher, President, Graham County Farm Bureau.

COUNTY FAIR TO BE HELD NOVEMBER 5

The Greenlee County fair Committee is busy making arrangements for the fair which is to be held in Duncan on November 5th. Although the fair will be held for one day only it promises to be the biggest one-day affair ever held in the county.

Exhibits of farm produce of every sort, livestock, and poultry, will set a new mark of exhibition, according to the reports received from Duncan. The farmers of the Gila Valley will flock to Duncan with exhibits that will open the eyes of those who have not as yet conceived the agricultural possibilities of the fertile valleys of Greenlee County.

With keen competition among the several agricultural districts of the county, the fair cannot help but surpass all previous efforts of the past.

A Remarkable Record

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has a remarkable record. It has been in use for almost half a century and has constantly grown in favor and popularity as its good qualities became better known. It is the standard and main reliance for these diseases in thousands of homes. The facts that it can be depended upon and is safe and pleasant to take, are greatly in its favor when it is wanted for children.

PHATFINDING COMMISSION TO BEGIN WORK

BIRMINGHAM, ALA.—Special to the Guardian—Hon. Bennie Cameron, of Stagville, N. C., President of the Bankhead National Highway Association, and one of the largest cotton farmers of North Carolina, is in Birmingham attending the American Cotton Congress, and conferring with J. A. Rountree, Director General of the Bankhead National Highway Association, in regard to the sixth annual convention of the Association, its plans and program, which meets in Phoenix, Arizona, April 27 and 28, 1922.

He is also here for the purpose of discussing the details of a pathfinding commission, which will start at Mount Pleasant, Texas, on the main line of the Bankhead Highway, and inspect the proposed route of the Texas to Mexico City Division of the highway, from Mount Pleasant, through Waco, Austin, Corsicana, Laredo, on to the city of Mexico. President Cameron is quite enthusiastic about the new route of the Bankhead Highway, and looks forward with a great deal of interest to seeing this highway built from Washington, D. C. to Mexico City.

President Cameron is a member of the North Carolina Senate, and was formerly a member of the State Highway Commission.
